

You keep them safe at home. But who's keeping them safe at school?

Many children with diabetes have no one to help them when they need insulin or face a diabetes emergency at school. Others are told they aren't welcome at their local school. That's why the American Diabetes Association has its Safe at School® Campaign. Whether at school, on the job, or elsewhere in their lives, the Association fights for the rights of people who are treated unfairly because of their diabetes.

If you are facing discrimination, call 1.800.DIABETES (1-800-342-2383) or visit diabetes.org/discrimination.

If you are a lawyer, health care professional, or other advocate and want to help, e-mail discrimination@diabetes.org.

To become a Diabetes Advocate, go to diabetes.org/takeaction.

 American Diabetes Association.